- cgs asks for objections to candidates - none.
- CRC position: - making decisions/input on CS purchases for labs (hardware and software)
- meets once a month (speak with Drew Miners)
- waltersb suggests leaving position open
- cgs suggests putting position in next agenda with job description

4) Books for CSIL/Library

- CSSS made $1000 contribution to purchase books for CS reserves and CSIL labs
- In particular, would like money to go towards books that are hard to find in bookstores
- iura brings up offer from Microsoft for close to free/free books
- rispin and gdennign object; books from Microsoft expensive and often not useful
- rispin suggests using money for course text-books, particularly for upper-level classes
- waltersb thinks will not be able to come up with enough books to buy; suggests leaving book-buying up to CS dept.
- rispin suggests professor input since book vendors will donate books to profs to have books used
- agordon suggests buying recommended texts that most people do not buy
- Library for CSIL lab to be secured to prevent theft

5) Couch

- Richard Drozdik planning to buy a new one, but one dropped off by Mike Pede (buying held off for a while)
- Old couch in ECON dept.

6) Comments from Drew Miners

- CSSS contributed to getting new digital camera
- CSSS Exec., CS staff, and students in CMPT 365 allowed access to camera
- Drew Miners suggests taking pictures of Exec. for CSSS website
(but suggests addition of disclaimer stating no connection to School of Computing Science)

-cgs asks rispin about server, Peter Lypkie needs to pick up parts (motherboard, RAM, and case)

7) Photocopier (and other CSSS equipment)

- Phone stolen in June, camera helped find the offender (who was not connected to SFU)
- Camera can see 45 degrees (sorry, no symbol this time)
- Photocopier in camera blind spot, therefore cannot see offenders/damagers
- Minolta suggests that previously broken glass was an accident
- gdenning says even so, offending parties should pay for damage
- ripin suggests removing feeder
- gdenning feels this will result in loss of revenue
- rispin suggests rubber feet to "soften the blow"
- Drew Miners suggests moving photocopier so in view of the camera

8) Camera

- iura suggests getting a colour camera, since camera quality is poor and grainy
- rispin inquires cost
- waltersb thinks there is not enough damage done to warrant a new camera
- idea put on hold/dismissed?
