The Director of Communications shall:

- Create and procure media such as advertisements, promotional material, artwork, photographs, etc., at the request of the Executive.
- Provide assistance in the promotion of CSSS events and events of other entities that are beneficial to the CSSS.
- Sit on committees as necessary, or upon request.
- Direct the work of up to two (2) appointed Communications Officers, delegating responsibilities as appropriate.
- Chair the Multimedia Committee.

The First Year Representatives shall:

- Ensure that issues and views pertaining to the members of the CSSS in their first year of post-secondary education are well represented within the Executive and the CSSS as a whole.
- Sit on at least one CSSS committee.
- Be available to other members of the Executive to assist them with tasks relating to the operations and activities of the CSSS.
- Host or co-host at least two (2) CSSS-sponsored events during their term.

4.1.3 Appointed Representatives

The Appointed Representatives shall consist of the System Administrator, Webmaster, various Social Media Managers, and up to two (2) Communications Officers.

The System Administrator and Webmaster shall have an indefinite term of office that may be terminated by any of the following events:

- The System Administrator or Webmaster would like to step down.
- The System Administrator or Webmaster is recalled by the membership of the CSSS in accordance with Section 6.7 of this Constitution.
- The position of System Administrator or Webmaster is appointed to another person
- by a 2/3rds majority vote of the Executive at any Executive or General Meeting

The Communication Officer(s) shall have a one-year term of office that may be terminated by any of the following events:

- The Communication Officer(s) would like to step down.
- The Communication Officer(s) is removed by decision of the Director of Communications.
- The position of Communication Officer is appointed to another person by the Director of Communications.

In cases where the Constitution and the By-Laws of the SFSS require appointment by election, voting shall be conducted as outlined in Section 6.6.

The System Administrator shall:

- Maintain all digital resources of the CSSS including but not limited to repositories, servers, and common room terminal(s).
- Hold their position from the time they are appointed until the end of the Summer semester following their appointment, after which the Executive should take the position into consideration.

- Write a continuity report at the end of their term for the next System Administrator who will fill this position.
- Should this position remain vacant, the System Administrator's duties shall default to the Director of Resources.

The Webmaster shall:

- Maintain current websites affiliated with the CSSS and its corresponding committees.
- Create and design new websites at the request of the Executive or an approved committee.
- Hold their position from the time they are appointed until the end of the Summer semester following their appointment, after which the Executive should take the position into consideration.
- Write a continuity report at the end of their term for the next Webmaster who will fill this position.
- Should this position remain vacant, the Webmaster's duties shall default to the System Administrator.
